Jeff McBride conjures “Magic at the Edge” at Trump Marina in August!

After touring the world for several years, Atlantic City favorite Jeff McBride will return this summer with his newest creation, “Jeff McBride - Magic at the Edge.” The show will play from August 2 – September 2 in The Shell at Trump Marina.

Known for his high-energy, imaginative performances, McBride combines masks, martial arts, pantomime, Kabuki theater, live drumming and multicultural inspirations to create a visionary magic show unlike any other. The New York Times wrote, "McBride gives his audiences a mesmerizing performance... a celebration of mystery...." The Las Vegas Review Journal said his magic is “Light years ahead of the pack!”

Since McBride’s last appearance in Atlantic City several years ago, he has set three new Guinness World Records, headlined at “The World’s Greatest Magic Show” in Las Vegas, been seen twice on “Mindfreak” on the A&E network, and had a major documentary made about his life for Canada’s Vision TV. He continues to run the McBride Magic & Mystery School, the only school in the world for professional magicians, and to create best selling DVDs and other materials used by magicians around the world.

“Jeff McBride – Magic at the Edge” is an intimate yet spectacular extravaganza that showcases many of McBride’s best loved performance pieces with masks, card manipulation, and coins. He also presents several new creations, never before seen in Atlantic City. McBride has been inspired by his travels around the world and the Burning Man Art Festival. His adventures there have inspired him to create “Magic at the Edge,” an experience unlike any other on the planet. The show is aimed at a sophisticated adult audience, but is enjoyable for all ages. McBride is joined by wife Abbi Spinner McBride and newcomer Jordan Wright, an accomplished magician and mentalist.
